FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Black Artist Foundry and Arden Fair's UnchARTed program to feature Sacramento Ceramic Artist Tasha Reneé's Torn Apart

[Sacramento, CA | December 1, 2024] – Black Artist Foundry is proud to announce a partnership with Arden Fair and its acclaimed UnchARTed program. This collaboration provides Black ceramicist Tasha Reneé with exhibition space and funding to present her latest work, Torn Apart, a poignant exploration of fragility and resilience.

Reneé's striking collection of hand-shaped vessels features pieces that seem to be squeezed and torn apart by invisible forces. Illuminated by pendants that expose growing cracks and flaws, the installation masterfully balances light, form, and texture, inviting viewers to reflect on the tension between strength and vulnerability in their lives and surroundings.

"I hope people see something of their own story in my art or find themselves drawn to the fragility and strength expressed in the medium," says Reneé.

A proud Sacramento native, Reneé draws inspiration from the city's vibrant community and its culture of advocacy and change. For her, presenting her work at Arden Fair holds deep personal meaning. "It's special to display my art in a place I've known my whole life—it's both nostalgic and exciting to see my work in such a familiar setting," she says.

Torn Apart* opens December 8, 2024, through February 8, 2025, at Arden Fair Mall.
